For over two decades, Kaye/Bassman has successfully conducted thousands of searches across all levels, from entry to executive, partnering with small and mid-sized regional firms as well as large national corporations across the U.S. While each client's business model is unique, they all share the need for a specialized search firm capable of identifying, attracting, and securing top industry talent to drive their growth. Our Client Focused Search™ approach consistently delivers exceptional results across industries, functional areas, and geographic locations. Clients and candidates alike trust our expertise in executive search and deep market knowledge in architecture and engineering.

Our Architecture & Engineering Practice includes some of our most tenured partners, search consultants, and research professionals, ensuring an unmatched recruiting track record. In today's competitive marketplace, securing the right leadership is crucial to driving innovation and achieving success. With deep industry expertise, an extensive network, and a tailored search strategy, we connect organizations with the top talent they need. Whether you are looking for a visionary architect, an engineering leader to spearhead complex projects, or a strategic executive to shape your firm's future, we have the experience and resources to deliver.

Our proven search process ensures no stone is left unturned, from initial consultation and candidate sourcing to rigorous assessments and seamless onboarding. We have helped firms of all sizes—from boutique design studios to global engineering consultancies—build leadership teams that drive growth and transformation.
