Kaye/Bassman's Women's Health practice brings specialized expertise across Obstetrics and Gynecology (OB/GYN) and the subspecialties shaping the future of women's healthcare. Our search experience spans across Minimally Invasive Gynecologic Surgery (MIGS), Maternal-Fetal Medicine (MFM), Gynecologic Oncology, Urogynecology, Menopause and Women's Wellness, Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility (REI), Labor and Delivery, hospitalists and physician executive leadership.

Our strength extends far beyond the recruitment. Through longstanding relationships with leading academic medical centers, healthcare organizations, and physicians nationwide, we bring a nuanced understanding of institutional priorities, leadership dynamics, and the evolving needs of women's health. We approach every engagement as a strategic partnership, combining deep market intelligence, access to exceptional talent, and a thoughtful understanding of what it takes to attract, recruit, and retain outstanding physicians and leaders.

Kaye/Bassman has a proven track record of placing distinguished Women's Health physicians and leaders at renowned institutions across the country, building departments, and advancing the clinical, research, and medical education missions of established and emerging programs. Our experience includes supporting programs in large cities to underserved communities, where effective recruitment can have a transformative impact on access to care and long-term institutional growth.

Grounded in trusted relationships and a commitment to long-term success, we deliver more than a successful placement. We are trusted advisors, an extension of the organizations we partner with, strengthen their leadership, help to build high-performing teams, and advance their strategic missions across the full spectrum of women's health.
